OUR STORY

ESTABLISHED & FAMILY RUN SINCE 1993

So where did the Pebble Masters dream begin? Actually, our story started way further back than our birth in 1993. Since the early 1980s, Mark (CEO) and his father, began the then, relatively new trade of Pebblecreting. Pebblecrete is the combination of small pebbles with cement and other additives to form a render like substance that is applied to a surface via a trowel. Historically, pebblecrete was mainly used for verandas, driveways and footpaths. This was the case as it was durable, low maintenance and aesthetically pleasing.

Mark and his father literally began to pebblecrete Sydney, with the pair and their team working on countless commercial projects in the city as well as residential driveways and verandas. The two quickly made a name for themselves in the industry due to their pride, efficiency and quality of their workmanship in the art of pebblecrete. By this time, the product was becoming increasingly popular as a finish inside swimming pools due to its performance underwater. With an increase in demand for pebblecrete in pools, the team shifted their offering as a company; from verandas, driveways and footpaths to pool interiors. Come 1993 and Pebble Masters was born; a specialised company focusing on the delivery of high quality pool renovations and new pool interiors.

During our growth phase, the now husband and wife team of Mark and Lisa felt the full pressures of owning their own business. However, with pressure comes sacrifice and sacrifice bears reward. That reward is where our company is at today.

Our operations has stayed the same from day one. Each of our customers deal directly with Mark and Lisa at every step of the project. This ensures our company delivers on customer requests and maintains high quality standards. Without this communication, our company would simply not work the way it does.

As Pebble Masters has grown, the philosophy hasn't. We continue to maintain our core focus on quality. By combining the techniques we have learned along the way with modern products and concepts, we are able to stay authentic to our philosophy. As such, we aim to exceed our customer's expectations and deliver a pool renovation or new interior that they will enjoy for many years to come.

LET'S TALK POOL FINISHES

The time has come to what we think is one of the most important decisions for any new pool build or renovation, the interior. The interior colour will dictate the overall water colour of your pool and set the scene for your backyard. Here at Pebble Masters, we specialise in pebblecrete pool interiors. With over forty years experience with this product, we have developed skills that are unmatched in the industry.

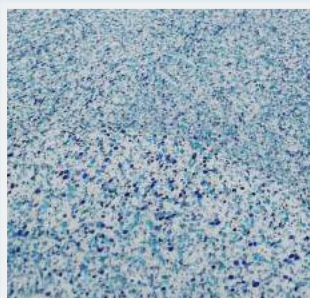

As the industry has progressed, so too has the art of pebblecreting. Nowadays, pebblecreting has seen the introduction of smaller, smoother natural pebbles, rounded glass beads, coloured pigments and other strengthening additives. Together, these new introductions have improved the durability, feel, strength and maintenance of pebblecrete, making the product the most reliable choice for a swimming pool interior. Due to the products' flexibility and adaptability, we can customise your interior to suit your desired water colour. This means you have full control in the design of your pool interior.

PEBBLE MASTERS IS AUSTRALIA'S LEADING
APPLICATOR OF SKYPEBBLE POOL FINISHES

Now a bit about our core product which is featured in all our pool interiors, Skypebble®. Quality materials are the basis for any quality pool finish and Skypebble® is no exception. Skypebble® is a pure and natural pebble that has been formed by nature over millions of years. When mixed with cement and other additives, this pebble transforms into a smooth render that is applied to the pool surface.

Internationally, Skypebble® and its associated brands are used in over 30,000 pools each year, with our company being the leading applicator in the Australian market. We have been using this product for over 25 years and we believe in its qualities as a superior swimming pool finish. These qualities are that Skypebble® has a natural and pleasing texture, is extremely durable and reliable, is slip-resistant as a pool surface and is easy to clean and maintain. We know all of this because we have used it for so long, our customers love it and we do too (it's in our pool!).

Actual finishes and water colours may differ from the samples selected and photos shown. They are used as a guide only. Each batch of material is produced and quarried at different times, showing variance in colour, shade, dimension and thickness. Every backyard is different and your interior water colour is influenced by factors such as shade, surrounding landscape, light, water depth and tile choices.
